DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Panciroli House is a large frame house two stories in height five bays long by two wide. The exterior is covered with wood shingle over clapboard. The house has a stone foundation. In each gable end is an interior end chimney, each is very wide. The gable roof has two gabled dormers in the facade. The eaves are enclosed with a box cornice which is supported by modillions. The window sash is 6/9 on the first floor, and 6/6 on the second. The facade has a central entrance with side lights and transom with dentil molding above the transom. To the rear of this main section is a small frame rear wing which is two stories in height.

The owner claims that an earlier structure once stood next to the north gable end. There are several small 19th century outbuildings with board and batten siding, also strap hinges.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Panciroli House is a transitional structure built in the late 1700's or early 1800's. The building is important architecturally due to its exterior detail and interior. The interior was not opened but owner says there is chair rail, mantels and nice staircase. The house has been used as a farmhouse.
